Provincial, Federal economics to influence Haliburton ...study

A study embracing the current economic trends and the possibilities for development in Haliburton County in the future has been completed by the Economic Development Branch of the Ministry of Treasury and Economics.

The report which was requested by county council in 1978, states that Haliburton's growth will be influenced by provincial, federal and international economic problems.

"The following factors will condition development prospects in the county in the next few years: economic growth will continue to occur, but expansion will likely be more moderate than the rate of development experienced by the Ontario and Haliburton economies during the late 1960's and early 1970's; continued efforts will be required to create new jobs to absorb the expanding labor force in both Ontario and in Haliburton; in attempting to gain new development, Haliburton faces an environment of keen competition, which, demands concerted efforts at business and development promotion; in all likelihood, Haliburton's development during the forecasted period of moderate economic growth will be based on expansion of the County's existing economic base. These four macro-economic factors form the underlying base for the directions for economic expansion suggested in this study," says the report.

It is noted in the study that Haliburton's labor force increased 22 percent between 1971 and 1976 as compared to Ontario's increase of 13 percent but the labor force's rate of participation was 11 points below the provincial average in 1976.

The report suggests that the wood manufacturing industry could be expanded based on the present performances of Martin Lumber, Wilberforce Veneer and Hunter Lumber.

"The predominance - present and historical - of the wood products industry in the county and the current growth of this manufacturing sector make it a prime candidate for economic expansion efforts in Haliburton," the study says.

"Distance from markets, lack of highly developed industrial services and lack of specialized labor skills" will probably keep the county from becoming a large manufacturing area, the study revealed.

The study suggests that tourism will continue to be a large contributor to the Haliburton County.

With over 600 lakes and over 500 miles of groomed snowmobile and cross country ski trails, Haliburton tourism will continue to utilize their existing natural base," the report reads.

It points out that the number of tourists visiting the area has increased drastically in the past five years and the amount spent by tourists has doubled. To increase the number of tourists it is suggested that "greater awareness or visibility of the Haliburton Highlands in the Toronto market, through increased promotion and publicity; a greater variety of 'things to do', to attract the tourist and to interest him while in the county, through further development of attractions and events; better services provided for the tourist in the County, through an increase in the variety and level of business services oriented to tourist needs; further enhancement of Haliburton as a destination, through further efforts directed at vacation packaging" are needed.

The study points out two major constraints in packaging the county for promotion: "most Haliburton tourist establishments are too small to offer extensive facilities and services in their operations; and the county has a comparatively limited number of attractions or events to occupy a destination vacationer."

But although there are drawbacks the study focused on other aspects of packaging the county. Such as arranging a charter bus to the ski slopes or making equipment rentals available to guests at lodges that are advocating cross-country skiing and snowmobiling.

The packaging aspect is directed to expanding the winter business since this is the way many operators conduct their summer business.

Since Haliburton has the highest rate of cottages to year-round homes in Ontario a large importance is placed on this increasing section of the economy.

The report notes that the increasing movement of turning cottages into year-round accommodation is having a further effect on the economy.

One possibility to opening up more land for cottage development is considering discussions with the Ministry of Natural Resources to "develop alternative and innovative recreational uses on Crown Land".

It is also suggested by the report that Haliburton introduce short-log and bolt milling because of the diminishing supply of good quality hardwood timber and the abundance of lower quality wood.

"The report cites the current formulation of such a plan of action by the Economic Development Commission as an essential component of organizing for development," read the summary.

Alf's Morel

This gigantic morel was brought to The Times office on Monday by Wanita Kimble, of Minden, because she just couldn't believe it was that big. Her husband, Alf, picked it on Pike's Peak, near Minden, on Friday. Although it is late in the season for morels, this one seemed to have taken advantage of all sun and rain lately.

Acid rain not affecting trees

Acid rain is not directly affecting Haliburton County's vegetation but it is a real and immediate problem to the fish and lakes in the area, according to a representative from the Ministry of Environment.

Dr. Sam Linzon told county council last Wednesday the PH level of rain falling on the county is well above the level at which it would start to affect vegetation.

The council was concerned about this point because of the lumber business in the area and was afraid the rain might be endangering forest production.

"There are no known facts that acid rain causes any effect on vegetation," he said.

He pointed out that a Swedish scientist had claimed that forest production had dropped .04 to .06 percent in a few years in certain areas because of acid rain. This statement was later disproved by many scientists citing natural forest deterioration as one of the reasons for a decrease in production.

While acid rain is just a potential threat to vegetation it is an immediate problem to the lakes and aquatic life in the area.

"Acid rain is definitely reducing the quality of lakes and directly affecting aquatic life," said the doctor.

The meeting was told that experiments are currently underway to reduce the impact of the increased acidity on lakes. In some areas natural concentrations of limestone have neutralized the acid build-up and so scientists are experimenting

County questions loaning of children's aid money for purchasing employees' cars

County council was shocked last Wednesday when it learned of some surprising business practises carried out by the Kawartha-Haliburton children's aid society.

At the outset of the meeting, newly appointed representative to the society, Meredith Amm, read a letter which he received at a recent meeting.

The letter pointed out certain practises, such as the loaning of society funds to employees for the purchase of cars and that foster parents were allowed to sit in on meetings to vote on matters such as pay increases for looking after the children.

Mr. Amm told council that the local director, George Dove, was held in the highest regard by everyone at the meeting and did not think these practises reflected on him.

Later in the morning Mr. Dove came before council to request that council ask the provincial government for assistance in caring for children in the area.

But before this matter could be discussed, Mr. Dove was asked about the matters discussed at the children's aid meeting.

Mr. Amm asked if it was still necessary to have two or three signatures on a cheque.

In the past, said the director, it had been the practise to have the treasurer and the president sign the cheques, but recently he had been asked to assume that responsibility.

Lutterworth council cancels ramp as 25 cottagers protest

A delegation of about 25 cottagers bombarded Lutterworth council last Thursday night in an effort to stop the building of a boat ramp on Gull Lake.

The cottagers said the boat ramp would encourage larger boats to come on to the lake and that people who don't have an investment in property around the lake often leave garbage behind.

Reeve Ron Gambell said on Friday that the ramp would have been located at the dam near Moore's Falls. But a resolution was passed at the Thursday night meeting that the ramp would not be built.

The reeve said the entire matter is being left until June 30 when the council will be travelling around the township to look at road conditions and possible sites for boat ramps.

The boat ramp would have been built by six employees of the Ministry of Natural Resources along with picnic tables and stone fireplaces. Only the materials would have cost the township money.

The MNR staff will be delegated to other jobs in the township since this project has been scrapped.

Lindsay on government's secret polling list

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton finds it interesting that the Town of Lindsay figured in the government's secret list of opinion polls, the results of which will not be released to members of the Legislature or the public who pay for them.

"Premier Davis has been under strong opposition attack for wasting taxpayers' money on opinion polls, the results of which could have been secured without spending $434,000. Pressed on whether the results could be used by the Conservative Party for political purposes, the Premier would not answer the question directly.

Last week the Chairman of the Cabinet's Management Board told Liberal Pat Reid that the government paid more than $434,000 in a year for polls, but he said the results contributed to "policy formation" which could lead to possible legislation, so the results would not be released.

The same question came up later during debate on the Estimates of the Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs, when the Minister refused to release the results of a poll taken by his ministry. Former Liberal Leader Bob Nixon argued that the people's opinions on such matters as Quebec should be public information. But the Minister said the government's policy is to keep the results secret.

"Despite their lack of success to date, the opposition parties have not yet given up the fight to have poll results made public. Pat Reid has put a resolution on the order paper for debate, calling on the government to release the results of all polls done from April 1, 1974, to last April 1. That resolution, however, would probably not be debated until the fall session. Polls taken in the year ended April 1 included questions on censorship, gambling, liquor, spending restraints in health and education, and the public's general views on inflation and the economy." Mr. Eakins said in a press release last week.

Woman breaks leg after the accident over

A Brady Lake woman received major injuries and was taken to Lindsay hospital after she stepped out of a car involved in an accident and fell down an embankment.

Joyce Austin, 52, was treated for a broken leg.

After Austin fell down the cliff, the driver, Bruce Dudman, 58 of Minden, fell and struck his face against a tree while trying to assist her.

Apparently the vehicle was northbound on the Bobcaygeon Road, just north of Minden late Saturday night.

The 1977 car was estimated with $2,000 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Brian Dunham.

Minor injuries

Two people received minor injuries when their car entered the ditch, hit a mud bank and rolled over as it was rounding a curve on county road 3, last Tuesday.

The driver, Ronald Barber, 36 of Toronto, and Shirley Wise, 35 of Agincourt, were treated at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

The 1971 car was estimated with $1,500 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Wood.

Hits Tree

A West Hill man was unharmed when his car hit a tree, last Friday morning, on county road 13 in Stanhope Township.

Glenn Johnson, 21, was driving west when the accident occurred.

The 1976 car received $1,000 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Wood.

Minor injury

A Lakefield man was taken to Minden hospital after he lost control of his car and it hit a rock face.

William Wellstood, 19, was driving a 1972 car which sustained $1,800 damage.

The accident occurred early Saturday morning on Highway 35, south of Minden.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning.

Car, truck collision

A Minden woman was treated at Minden hospital for minor injuries when her truck collided with a car on a curve on Poverty Bay Road.

Shirley Davis, 39 of R. R. 1 Minden, was driving a 1976 pick-up truck which received a damage estimate of $2,500.

The 1977 car driven by Brian Devitt, 18 of Mississauga, received $3,000 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Brian Dunham.

The Haliburton Economic Development Study that was recently completed by the staff of the Economics Branch of the Ministry of Treasury and Economics is a step in the right direction.

With the trends of tourism, mining, construction, cottaging and agriculture now down in cold hard facts measures can be taken to correct certain shortcomings while assets of the county can be enhanced to their fullest.

One of these assets, which everyone knows, is Haliburton's natural beauty should be taken to its maximum by the packaging ideas mentioned in the study. It is noted that the inclusion of transportation accommodation meals and entertainment as well as equipment rentals can lead to a very attractive package.

The study also shines a light on some of the pitfalls of locating a manufacturing industry in the county. One of the major drawbacks is transportation and this is clearly evident by the closing of the rail lines from Lindsay into the county.

The rail lines might have been the straw that broke the camels back as far as locating a manufacturing industry here.

Another important point is the mention of the importance of the service industry in the area which is largely made up of accommodation and food businesses in the area.

The mining industry is also looked at but needs further investigation into a large number of possibilities.

This study, if it is used hand in hand with the recent information gathered by the Haliburton Economic Development Commission could lead to some big steps being taken in Haliburton County.

It could lead to the county becoming a year-round stable economy.

It's Birthday Time Again

By W. Roger Worth

Like carnival barkers flogging a sideshow, Ottawa financed promoters have fanned out across the country cajoling national organizations and the country's media to jump on the "Canada's Birthday" bandwagon.

"The biggest celebration this country has seen in a decade," predicts a press release from the organizers. Among the events: concerts, carnivals, clambakes, fairs, folkfests, flag raisings, plays, pageants, presentations, races, rallies and rodeos.

Someone in the nation's capital, it seems, wants Canadians to be a lot more like their flag-waving American neighbors who pull out all the stops for that country's July 4 holiday.

Promoting togetherness and understanding at the national level is an excellent idea, considering the seemingly endless series of regional, cultural and political squabbles upsetting Canadians.

Still, one wonders whether heavy spending on such celebrations is the solution.

This year, for example, Ottawa is kicking in $3.8 million to promote the cause. The Council for Canadian Unity gets $812,000 and the Canadian Folk Arts Council another $443,000.

Even the groups involved in promoting the celebration have apparently been fighting over the available funds.

While there will probably be less soft-sell (and perhaps unnecessary) advertising in 1979, the amount of cash reserved for national - as opposed to local - promotion is extremely high.

The organizers are justifiably big believers in numbers and statistics. They point out that more than 1,500 communities will participate in this year's celebration, up from 900 in 1978.

The major question, though, is whether the millions now being spent nationally would not achieve more "bang for the buck" if the funds were passed directly to local volunteer organizations.

Canada's new Prime Minister Joe Clark has stressed that the real action in the country is at the local level. He also believes strongly in the worth of volunteer activity by Canadians.

By pump priming community celebrations, making extra money available to a broader range of groups (rather than spending the cash on high priced public relations), Ottawa just might get a lot more Canadians involved.

But that's a suggestion for 1980. For this year, let's settle for a Happy 112th birthday.

Driving schools in Ontario would be regulated and licenced by the government under proposed legislation, with driving instructors required to obtain a special licence after passing a test approved by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. Schools would also require a licence, except those affiliated with an educational institution.

Food commission

Liberal Leader Stuart Smith has charged that the chief counsel for Ontario's Royal Commission on Food

Discounts should be fired because he is protecting supermarket chains instead of digging out the facts. Both Opposition Parties have denounced comments made by the lawyer, who said he would not make public details about discounts and allowances given to stores by food suppliers because it might hurt the competitive position of stores.

Bike gangs

According to the Attorney-General, the police are stepping up their fight against the power of Ontario's biker gangs. Charges against gang members in 1979 already exceed 1978 totals, when 370 bikers were charged with a total of 440 offences. He also vowed to monitor a Hamilton court case in which members of a biker gang called the Wild Ones are charged with rape. There have already been two attempts to kill a female witness scheduled to testify in the case.

Nuclear safety

A Conservative motion to have a select committee investigate the safety of Rolphoton nuclear station passed by a slim margin, over pleas to delay the start of the plant's operation. The station, located 190 km. northwest of Ottawa, is building up to full power, and the investigation will not interfere with the schedule to begin its operation. "They're pulling out the control rods even as we debate a matter as serious as this", warned former Liberal Leader Robert Nixon.

There have been 18 shut-downs at Rolphoton since 1978 - three for routine maintenance and 15 forced closings. Hydro recently admitted that a stuck valve in the emergency core cooling system which had put it out of commission had gone undetected for up to 45 days. Hydro officials have also acknowledged that one of the biggest spills of radioactive heavy water in the history of Canada's nuclear power program occurred at Pickering generating station near Toronto almost four months ago, but the public was not informed. On June 15, during a routine refueling operation a fueling machine hydraulic ram stalled and remains stuck to the fuel channel. The reactor is to be shut down so that local controls may be used to retract it.

Developments in connection with Hydro's nuclear program continue to be very much in the news, and I'd like to summarize these for you soon. Hydro seems to be almost out of control in so many ways, because of lack of true accountability - its over-expansion and extravagant spending policies, its entire nuclear program. Somehow, we must acquire a degree of control.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

I am pleased and relieved to see the new guard rails along N. River Road. Last fall we had a very close call along that road and have worried every day since. Thanks!

Editor:

Neither dogs nor cats should be allowed to run freely throughout neighbourhoods.

Not only is this showing a lack of consideration for others but it is dangerous for the animals as well.

Leashed and indoor pets live longer and healthier lives.

If owners are too lazy, selfish, busy or penny-pinching to properly take care of their animals then why do they have them?

Obviously these people do not really care about their pets or their neighbors.

View from the porch

by Hal Burton

Hi!

It's me again, only this time the words are my own and not those of some wet-behind-the-ears reporter the paper sent over to the house a couple of weeks back. I, to say the least, was a might decapitated when I read the manner with which the whipper snapper recounted my confrontation with a mosquito. The item wasn't replete with lies, or anything quite treasonous as that. It was just the way the reporter related the events, it gave the impression I wasn't playing with a full deck. Who, I wonder, did he think I was, a politician?

Well, after some lengthy discourse with the powers that be at this newspaper, I finally convinced the management that I was quite able to tell my own tales, tall or otherwise.

And so they, and I use the term quite loosely, have invited me to submit my musings on an irregular basis, which is the best anyone can expect of someone my age or worse.

Life has moved into low gear around the house, what with the onslaught of the hot weather. Of course, one wouldn't know it by watching the vehicles speeding by in front of the porch. For some at least, the hotter it gets the faster they move, which to me and most other critters which inhabit this world of ours, is completely the reverse of what it should be.

You'd never see a swaback jersey or a fringe-footed Clydesdale kick up its heels when the temperature and humidity climb in tandem. Nope, they find a shady tree and stand stark still save for a flick of the tail or a quiver of muscle to keep the flies moving.

It is hard to figure what makes people move so fast when it gets so hot. A real poser that.

Speaking of the energy crisis, I see in the papers that the Arabs are threatening to nip us in the bud and cut off the black gold with which we are greasing our wheels. The threat has added new urgency to the search for other forms of energy. There are some who are eager to see this country lit by the power of them atomic retroactors. Others feel the danger of the atomic machines (and to me the problem in Pennsylvania seems to be something that our Electrolux man couldn't handle quite neatly) could lead to a spell of serious trouble.

As I see it, we are truly caught on the horns of a dilemma, which is worse than being trapped in an elevator with a garlic bud salesman. If the Shrieks cut off our oil we may just freeze in the dark, but if we let those atomic gizmos get out of hand we're all likely to glow in the dark. Take your druthers.

That will not be all I will have to say on this topic, but it will have to do for now. The ice in my lemonade is melted and the cat's tail is caught under grandma's rocker as she took the batteries out of her hearing aid when the Edge of Night came on. Seems she accepts the rule about hearing no evil, but is still undecided about the seeing part. I better go.

Coming Up

This calendar of events will be available for local organizations to display a small description of their coming event. To get your community event in the news, call 286-1288.

SCUBA DIVERS TAKE TO THE DEEP

Haliburton Highlands' lakes aren't the coral reef and Frank Holden and John Lawson aren't Jacques Cousteau but they sure can find what they're looking for.

The men, partners in Haliburton Recovery a search and salvage scuba diving team, are well qualified for the job. (The word "scuba", by the way, is a combination of the first letters in the words self-contained underwater breathing apparatus.)

Frank, who always wanted to scuba dive, met an instructor about five years ago and began his basic course, then followed up with a more advanced course and is now a qualified instructor, recognized by ACUC (Association of Canadian Underwater Councils). He also worked with a salvage team based in Key West, Florida.

John, who began the business on his own last year, has been involved in diving for 10 years, certified by ACUC, and taught a scuba diving course in Haliburton last winter.

The pair amalgamated their talents last winter after a dip in the Gull River, in Minden, at the Winter Carnival.

"I guess he figured if anybody's loony enough to do this with me, we should be partners," recalls Frank.

(Both say it wasn't that cold inside the wet suits, after all it was 34 degrees Fahrenheit.)

"We're just trying to make a hobby pay a little bit," says John who owns a restaurant in town.

And an expensive hobby it is.

Equipped with tanks, lead belts, masks, snorkels, flippers and wet suits the men are ready for the dive.

The dive, last Thursday, was a success as most of their dives have been in the past.

This day the object was to find an outboard motor and some fishing rods (and if possible the beer) that went into the drink when a boat overturned the week before.

The pair didn't take their own boat on this excursion because the cottager generously offered his.

To the novices, riding along in the boat with the divers, finding the black motor on the bottom of Gull Lake with a storm brewing above almost seemed impossible. After trying to pinpoint a spot they went over the side of the boat and all that could be seen for minutes on end were the air bubbles escaping to the surface.

Occasionally they would pop back up to surface to see if they were in line with the birch tree that was given as a land mark where the motor went down, or ask the man, who lost the motor, if this was about the area where he thought the boat overturned.

Then after about three-quarters of an hour of searching the pair came to the surface victorious.

Apparently they had been doing a sweeping search pattern and were on the return lap when the fishing rods were spotted and the motor only lay a few feet away.

The find was just in time as Frank's tank was almost out of air and he had already switched to reserve.

It was a happy day for the cottagers as their motor returned to surface, along with Dad's fishing rod and reel.

The pair have only come up empty once and that was about three weeks ago when the men who lost the engine couldn't decide on one specific place where they thought it had gone over.

"They all came up with a different spot," said Frank.

While motors are the main item they are asked to recover, the partners will dive for anything, excepting bodies and articles used in crimes which are the responsibility of the police diving team, located at the Minden detachment.

"Diving used to be associated with tough guys and daredevils, but that's starting to change," says Frank.

Both Frank and John are trying their best to improve diving in Haliburton.

They have started the Aqua-Masters Dive Club and are now accepting memberships and are hoping to be teaching a course this winter in the area.

"We'd like to prevent uneducated people from going out and unwittingly committing suicide," says John.

One interesting fact, pointed out by Frank, is the low number of fatalities in the sport because of the safety measures required.

They would like to promote safe scuba diving and if the interest grows the pair would like to see a dive shop located in the area so they don't have to travel to Lindsay to have their tanks filled.

As Frank says, "the more divers around, the merrier".

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

It's here!

Yes, ready or not it's here! Many businesses are still working hard to get ready for that summer season that looms as an oncoming deadline for completion of renovations and alterations - and now it's here and it's already too late to complete some of what we had intended to do.

At the Chamber it means that the bulk of our promotional work is now in place and it is now a matter of waiting to see how effective it will be. We too have not completed everything as planned as we still await delivery of our post cards and County road maps.

Our travel counsellors are now on duty at all the information centres and are anxious to help our visitors find answers to their many questions. Ev Perrin and Lorrie Mosgrove, who are working at the Haliburton Caboose had a little difficulty keeping up with the location of their place of employment last week as the municipality suddenly decided to move the caboose adjacent to the Guild Gallery Station. It is now business as usual however, in much more suitable surroundings for the Caboose Information Centre.

Busy summer for Guild

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts have an extremely busy summer ahead of them since in addition to the many usual activities they are always involved in they are working towards the opening of the Station Gallery at the newly restored C.N. Station. They are presently gathering items for a Guild Auction to be held August 4th in aid of this project. Items may be submitted either by way of donation or on consignment at 20% commission to the Guild. For more information call 457-2404.

The Guild's Summer Theatre this year is following the theme of the International Year of the Child and presenting some excellent shows geared to the whole family but with children in mind. The plays get underway this week-end at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School with "Alice in Wonderland."

The 17th Annual Guild Exhibition and Sale begins on July 7th and runs through to the 17th at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School. This event is now becoming well known throughout the province as a great place to view and purchase, if you wish, a large variety of meticulously created items from both local craft artisans and those of wider fame.

Fiddle contests

We are now becoming known for two well organized Fiddle and Step Dance contests. The first is this week-end, June 30th at Wilberforce and the second in Haliburton on July 13th and 14th. If you have never looked in on one of these events, do yourself a favour and give it a try. You don't have to be a country music fan to appreciate the talent and dedication that the competitors in these championships display.

"Lovers buttons"

Since the introduction of the new Haliburton Highlands logo many have asked about the familiar "Haliburton is for Lovers" logo, or in particular the buttons that have been available in the past. Peter Gorman, the wholesaler who was handling these buttons have now sold their entire inventory to the Chamber and we will be handling them while they last at the same price as the wholesaler. If you wish a supply for the summer contact the Chamber office while stock lasts.

Hang 'em high

Amos Brubacher, on the ladder, and Tom Hurtt add a bit of colour to the downtown Minden scene as they set one of 34 flower baskets in place. The baskets were hung last week by the members of the Horticultural Society.

1,600 Rockcliffe quarters stolen

A Petawawa man was arrested with $322 in quarters last Thursday after approximately $400 in quarters were stolen from an electronic game at the Rockcliffe Hotel, in Minden.

Sometime between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. last Wednesday, the hotel was entered through a fire door and the machine was broken into causing about $20 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning and Barry Connelly.

Fire destroys Paradise

Dysart et al fire fighters on the job Monday morning as Paradise fire rekindled.

The Paradise Hotel, south east of Haliburton on Highway 121, burnt to the ground early last Sunday morning.

Michael Doherty, owner of the hotel, lived in the building with his family.

About 2:45 a.m. he heard the fire alarm go off and noticed smoke and fire near the stage in the hotel area.

He got the members of his family out of the building and then called the Dysart fire department.

The fire started again on Sunday afternoon and Monday morning, both times the fire department returned to the scene.

Three adjoining motel units were also damaged in the blaze.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Wood.

Hunting this season... better get FAC soon

The Ontario police are suggesting that shooters start applying for firearm acquisition certificates (FAC) if planning to be buying or borrowing a gun for hunting season.

As it is illegal for anyone to sell or loan a firearm to a person who does not have the FAC, there could be some disappointed hunters in September.

"The number of applications for firearms acquisition certificates up to the present time is much lower than expected," says Ontario Provincial Police staff sergeant Don Jones of the chief provincial firearms office. "We're a little bit afraid of having a backlog later on."

OPP and municipal police forces are expecting a flood of application forms before the hunting season starts. Getting a certificate now could save a lot of delay later on in the year.

Many hunters are getting the wrong impression of the legislation. "The key word is 'acquire', Jones went on to say. "So even if you borrow a gun, any type of gun, you still need a firearms acquisition certificate"

An FAC is valid for five years and allows the holder to acquire any number of guns.

TRENT-SEVERN WATERWAY

Preparations near completion for Lift Lock anniversary

Trent-Severn Waterway staff are busy with final spruce-ups of the Peterborough Lift Lock, in preparation for the famous structure's 75th anniversary.

A reviewing stand is being trucked from Cornwall for the Governor General's visit on July 4th.

A multitude of details from megaphones to parking plans are under final checks for the extensive sports events scheduled for the week-end of July 7 and 8. Boaters are being advised of minor delays at the lift lock while bath tub races, steam boat processions and log rolling contests are underway.

Water control

Drier weather the week ending June 18 resulted in the reservoirs declining in storage from 100.8% to 98.2%. By last Thursday, the decline was causing the Kawarthas to drop into the navigation ranges despite reduction of Otonabee River outflows to minimum.

The reservoir flow was then increased and the first draw-off of stored water for 1979 began.

By last Friday a rainfall of 16.5 mm had improved the Kawartha levels somewhat and, with the extra flow from Haliburton, week-end levels should be good everywhere.

Minden Red Cross preparing for Bazaar

The Minden Branch of the Ontario Red Cross will be participating in the Annual Red Cross Bazaar being held in the Lindsay Armories on Saturday, July 14th.

sweaters, ladies' slippers and golf sockettes are among the items to be displayed. A number of other Branches will also be involved in this Bazaar. It is hoped that a good representation from the Minden area will be able to attend the sale which will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, July 14th.

accident

Two people were unharmed in a boating accident last Sunday when they jumped into the water as another boat with a water skier went over top of their boat.

The couple, Rosemary Soden, of Kingston, and David Vrooman, of R R 3 Stella, were headed south in a 12 foot aluminum boat with a 4 h.p. motor on Little Elsie Lake in Minden Township when they noticed a boat heading towards them.

They waved and shouted but by the time the other driver noticed the boat in its path, it was too late.

The pair jumped into the water and luckily avoided injury.

Brian Hewitt, 22 of Bay Ridges, was driving the other boat with three passengers and a water skier in tow. This boat was a 16 foot fibreglas vessel with a 70 horsepower motor.

Hewitt was in the process of turning the boat around to head back into Horseshoe Lake when the accident occurred.

Swing into summer

Some have described the game as the silliest ever invented. Others have analysed it for its psychological benefit to the players. The game has been blamed for declining attendance at churches during the summer and credited with being an ideal sport for those seeking a little exercise and relaxation. Some of the biggest business deals are said to have been made while the game was in progress and just recently a player in the United States took out frustrations created during the game on a Canada goose which honked just once too often.

Golf. Whatever your view of the game is, from the tee, in front of the television set or in the gallery, there is little doubt the game has had a great impact on North Americans.

For the golfer the Highlands area is richly blessed as within a radius of about 15 miles there are five challenging and picturesque golf courses. Some may lack the amenities of the courses in larger centres, but then the more than reasonable green fees and personal and friendly welcome by the operators more than makes up for it.

Most of the area courses open in early May. They remain open until the snow or cold weather drives even the most ardent golfer from the links, usually in late October. During the holiday months of July and August the courses are busy as duffers abandon the city and head for cooler surroundings. Weekends during the summer can be especially hectic at the first tee and golfers are advised to plan for a little waiting time during the busy periods.

In the off season the local courses are a golfer's dream come true. The links are usually deserted so there is no need to wait before starting to play and the phrase 'a leisurely game of golf' is really true.

All of the courses in the Minden-Haliburton area have nine holes. Each is unique in its challenges and attributes. However, the most experienced golfer and the player with a grip on the driver for the first time will find an entertaining and enjoyable time at any of the five courses.

This past week The Times visited each of the five courses. The following reports will give golfers some indication of what's in store as they step up to holler "fore!"

Beaverbrook

This Sunday the Beaverbrook Golf Club marks its fortieth year of operation. It was on July 1, 1939 that the course first opened to the public. It has been in operation since then, except for one year in the early forties when high water swept the bridge over the Gull River away and the course remained idle for the season until a new bridge could be installed.

Located just west of Minden Village, access to Beaverbrook is by a sideroad off the Highway 35 by-pass. Nestled between the Gull River and Beaver Brook the course offers a challenging nine holes.

The course stretches for 2,983 yards (2,933 for women) with golfers facing their longest test on the first hole, a 485 yard, par five. The par for men is 35, for ladies, 39.

Daye Stevens, who manages the course with his father Andy, rates the sixth hole as the toughest on the course. He notes the 230 yard, par 3 hole. The fairway slants off to the right while trees crowd the left boundary. Added to this is the slope of the green to the right. Few golfers come away from that one with even par.

Beaverbrook has a pro shop with a complete supply of golfers needs. Clubs and carts are available for rent. Nine holes of golf will cost you $4.50 while 18 holes are $7.00. yearly memberships are also available.

Blairhampton

This golf course is perhaps the most isolated of the five in the area, but it is by no means difficult to find.

Located on rolling hills on the shores of Horseshoe Lake the roads to Blairhampton are well posted. From Minden simply take Horseshoe Lake Road Number One, just over the Gull River bridge on Highway 35. Golfers from

Final hole

A foursome complete a round of golf at the PineStone Golf Course as they putt out on the ninth green.

Carnarvon and the north can follow Horseshoe Lake Road Number Two to reach the course. And duffers from Haliburton and the east should turn north off Highway 121 at the Bethel Church Road and follow the signs.

The nine hole circuit is 2,904 yards with a par of 36 for the men and 37 for the ladies.

Women golfers pick up the extra stroke on the 412 yard fourth hole. Course manager Dave Shuyler describes this as the toughest challenge of the nine. It has a side hill lie and a small green that tests the abilities of even the most experienced golfer. There are also two holes on the course, six and nine, which include a water hazard.

The course is irrigated throughout ensuring green fairways all year round.

There is a pro shop with clubs and carts to rent. Nine holes will cost $4.00 with an all day rate of $7.00. Dave points out that the day rate is ideal for the golfer who wants to split two sets of nine holes during the day. Yearly memberships are available.

As you admire the picturesque first hole watch for a friendly snowshoe hare that likes to pop out and greet the golfers.

Haliburton Highlands

This course is probably the oldest in the area. The new owner, Keith Stephenson who took over last year, wasn't able to pinpoint the exact date the course opened but guesstimated it was about 50 years ago.

Haliburton Highland Golf Club is located on the South Kashagawigamog Lake road, three miles west of Haliburton. It is a challenging 2,170 par 33 course.

Keith rates the number eight hole as the toughest and the most photographed hole in the area. The second from last hole is a short 180 yard, par 3. However, what stymies the golfers and attracts the photographers is the fact the tee is set over 125 feet above the green.

The view from the tee of the surrounding countryside is superb while the shot to the green is a nerve wracking experience. The green is nestled close to the road to add a further challenge to the hole. Golfers should bring their cameras so they can come away with at least one good shot from the tee.

The Highlands has complete pro shop facilities and offers new and used clubs and bags for sale. For the novice, not wanting to make a large initial investment, we noted a set of clubs for sale priced at less than $80. Club and cart rentals are available. The charge for nine holes is $3.50 with a double round costing $6.00. In a few weeks a new putting green should also be open.

PineStone

This is the third year for the golf course at the PineStone Inn, Highway 121, four miles west of Haliburton. The nine hole, 3,067 yard, par 36 (2,901 yard, par 38 for the ladies) course is adjacent to the Inn but open to the general public.

The course was built over an 18 month period with Jack Davison, a pro from Oakville, as the designer. Greenkeeper Jim Elstone obviously takes pride in his course as the greens and fairways were in immaculate shape when we visited last week.

Golfers have the opportunity of combining a round on the links with lunch, or an evening meal at the PineStone dining room.

The course has a number of water hazards including several streams and a large lake to the right of number eight green and a pond in front of the number nine green.

There is a complete pro shop with clubs and carts for rent. Nine holes cost $5 with a $7.50 charge for 18 holes. Yearly memberships are also available.

Lakeside

A report on the Lakeside Golf Club, east of Carnarvon, will be published in the next issue of The Times.

Roller skating a success

Roller skating in Minden has turned into quite a success according to Phil Nicholls.

The assistant manager of the arena told the Anson,

Hindon and Minden recreation committee that an average of 125 people were coming to skate on Mondays and Wednesdays and 170 on Friday nights.

More skates are necessary and Mr. Nicholls told the committee that they should be available by mid-July.

Fore!

The wide open spaces of the first hole at the Blairhampton Golf Course welcome golfers on a pleasant summer morning.

We have good news and..... We have bad news

First, the bad news:

Due to increasing cost we are forced to raise our subscription rates. The increase is a small one but necessitated by higher production and mailing costs. The new rates are listed below.

Now, the good news:

During the month of June the existing subscription rates will apply. Until June 29 new subscription or extension to existing subscriptions (2 year maximum) will be accepted at the present rate. to employees came to a head. Mr. Dove said it had been a practise to loan money, interest free to employees so they could purchase a car. He said this had come about because the job required that a car be available, so instead of providing a car for the employees, money was made available to them.

"You're loaning my money to them interest free...you're using everybody's money to pay that person's interest," said Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Sinc Nesbitt. "I'd question a person's credibility if he couldn't buy a car," added Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell.

When asked how one of these loans is procured, the director said the personnel committee reviews an application and then makes its decision. The payments are deducted from the employee's pay cheques.

Mr. Dove said that if the employee quits the money is due in full at that time or if the employee dies, the debt will be placed against his estate.

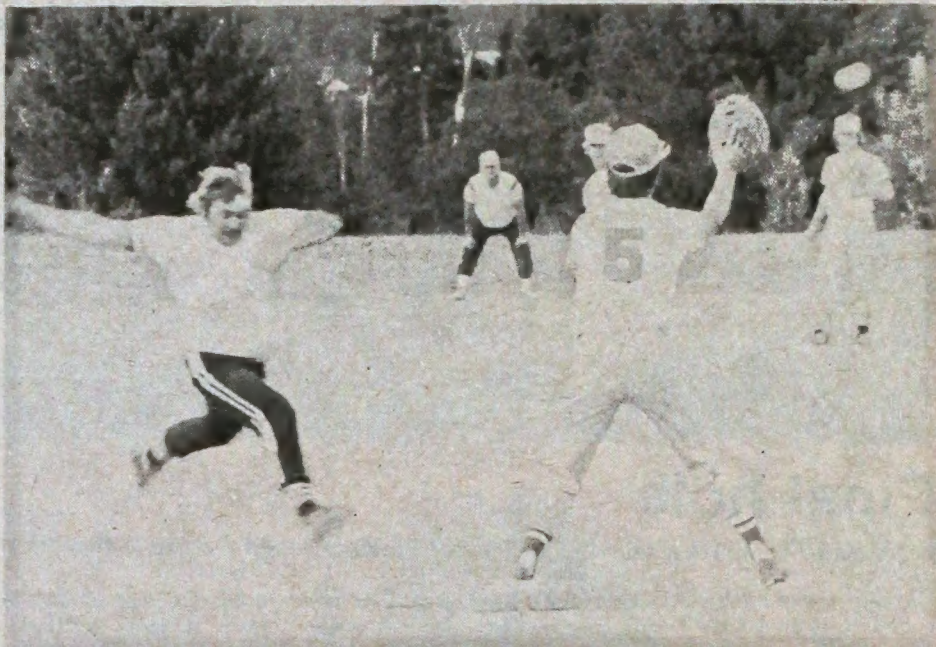

He denied that parents were allowed to vote for pay increases and stated that only one foster parent sits on the board of directors and she always declares conflict of interest if such a matter arises.

Mr. Dove told council that the loan structure would be reviewed and an alternative to providing cars would have to be found.

the West Guilford team. Haliburton remained unbeaten defeating Wilberforce 28-1 last Wednesday. Judy Faul was the losing pitcher and Nancy Maughan was the winner.

Thursday saw West Guilford give Haliburton a scare but Haliburton hung on with a 9-8 victory. Nancy Maughan was the winner while Nancy Brinks took the loss.

Thursday Wilberforce travelled to Carnarvon. Marg Darby was the heroine of that game as she hit 2 home runs and pitched the victory. Lorna Wilson also hit a home run for Carnarvon.

First base dash -

Barry Shaw, of the Minden Merchants, races for first base as a Woodville player reaches for the ball during a Tri-County Softball League game played Wednesday in Minden. The Merchants handily defeated the visitors by a 9-1 margin. Sunday evening the Merchants lost a squeaker to the Lindsay Juniors dropping a 6-5 decision in Lindsay. Coming up tonight, (Wednesday) the Merchants take on Fenelon Falls at the Minden ball diamond. Game time is 8 p.m.

Volunteer aid for seniors

A sub-committee, of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council, will be set up to investigate the possible backing and funding available for volunteer aid for senior citizens.

Doris McCann told the council at its last meeting on May 24 there are elderly people in the area who need assistance with daily chores

The sub-committee, Doris McCann, Elsie Bursey, David Woodall plus four more volunteers, will be calling a meeting with the public health unit to discuss the possibility of funding the project.

However the scientist noted that the liming process would not decrease the heavy metal contamination which is taking place in the lakes. He explained that the acid increases the mobility in the soil of such metals as mercury. The increased movement of these metals into the lake has resulted in higher levels being discovered in aquatic plants and fish.

Unless you worked at least 20 weeks in the past year, these changes could apply to you.

In December 1978, Parliament changed the Unemployment Insurance program. Changes starting July 1 mean that some people will have to work longer before they can qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits.

Please remember, these UI changes affect only those claims which start on or after July 1, 1979. And, the changes may or may not apply to you. So please read on to see if you are affected.

(You'll find terms such as "Weeks of Work", "Qualifying Period", "Variable Entrance Requirement" (VER), and "Unemployment Rate" marked by an asterisk (*). For easier understanding, see the box "Explaining UI terms" at the end of this message.)

Here are the details of those changes.

Have you worked 20 weeks or more in your Qualifying Period*?

If so, this message does not apply to you. For you, the number of weeks you need to qualify for regular UI benefits and for UI illness and maternity benefits, or the one-time benefit at age 65 has not changed.

Are you working for the first time?

To get UI benefits, you will usually need 20 Weeks' Work*, no matter where you live. An exception to this would be if you were on a training course approved by the Canada

I cured my high blood pressure.

Baloney! If you have high blood pressure, you'll probably have it for the rest of your life because it can't be cured. But it doesn't have to be a problem—you can control it and bring it down. See a doctor and take your medication every day.

Starting July 1, there will be some changes made to Unemployment Insurance.

Employment and Immigration Commission for at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*. Then you would only need 10 to 14 weeks, depending on the Variable Entrance Requirement* where you live.

Are you starting to work again?

If you're coming back to work after being away a year or more, you'll usually need 20 Weeks of Work* in your Qualifying Period* before you can qualify for UI benefits.

This applies wherever you live.

This 20-week rule won't apply, however, if you were in any of the following situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*.

These are the situations that count:

1. You were getting temporary worker's disability compensation from a provincial program;
2. You were receiving sick or maternity leave payments;
3. You were out of work because of a labour dispute at your place of work;
4. You were on a Commission-approved training course;
5. You were on UI claim;
6. You were working in insurable employment.

So, for first-time workers and those coming back to work:

A. If you were in any of these six situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*, then you need only 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* in the Qualifying Period*, depending on the VER* where you live.

B. If none of the six situations fit your case, you will have to have worked at least 20 weeks to qualify for UI benefits.

NOTE: If you are returning to work after being away more than one year, the 20-week rule will normally apply to you.

Did you get UI benefits in the last year?

If you got UI benefits in your Qualifying Period*, there are new rules that may apply to you — unless the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent.

1. If a claim you had in the last year has not run out, you may be able to renew it.

2. If yours is classed as a new claim, you will need the usual 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* depending on your local VER*, plus up to six "extra" Weeks of Work*. The number of "extra" weeks you'll need depends on how many weeks you got on your previous UI claim. You need one "extra" week (up to a maximum of six) for every week you got over the VER* needed in your area.

Here's an example: You need 12 Weeks' Work* in your region (your local VER*) to qualify for benefits the first time. On your last claim, you drew 15 weeks' benefits before going back to work. Now, you would need the usual 12 weeks, plus three "extra" work weeks. (That's the difference between the 12 weeks you needed to work and the 15 weeks of benefits you drew. In total you would need 15 Weeks' Work* to qualify again within one year. The most anyone needs anywhere is 20 weeks of work to qualify.

Again, please remember, when the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent, this rule won't apply to you. You'll need only 10 Weeks' Work* to qualify for regular UI benefits.

Other changes have been in effect since January 1979:

- The weekly benefit rate was reduced to 60 per cent of your average insurable earnings (from 66²/₃ per cent).
- Most people employed for less than 20 hours a week are no longer covered by UI.
- Higher-income claimants may have to repay part of UI benefits drawn in the 1979 tax year. This will only affect people whose income, including UI benefits, is over $20,670. This will be explained when you get your 1979 tax return.

These things haven't changed:

Just as a review, these points haven't changed:

- You may still get UI illness and maternity benefits and the special benefit paid at age 65 if you've worked 20 weeks in your Qualifying Period*.
- There's still a two-week waiting period before UI benefits start.
- To get regular benefits, you must still be available for and looking for work each day you are on claim.
- You must report any work and earnings while on claim.

- You can be disqualified from getting benefits for up to six weeks if you quit your job voluntarily, you were fired for misconduct, or if you turned down a suitable job offer.
- You can still appeal a decision by UI to deny you benefits.

Explaining UI terms:

*Weeks of Work

This means weeks of work that are insurable for Unemployment Insurance. Most employment of 20 hours or more a week is insurable.

*Qualifying Period

What UI calls your Qualifying Period is the 52 weeks before we start your claim. Or if you had a claim in the last year, it's the time since that claim started.

*Variable Entrance Requirement (VER)

To qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits, you must have worked from 10 to 14 weeks in insurable employment during your Qualifying Period*. The exact number of weeks depends on the Unemployment Rate* in the economic region where you live. (See below.) If you don't have enough weeks to qualify when you file your claim, we keep your application in the computer file. If the Unemployment Rate* changes so you then have the weeks you need, we will send you a notice.

*Unemployment Rate

For Unemployment Insurance, the Unemployment Rate used for each of the 48 economic regions of Canada is not the current monthly Statistics Canada unemployment rate in each region. It is a three-month average of seasonally-adjusted monthly unemployment rates.

MINDEN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Annual W.I. pot luck luncheon was held at 12:30 on Wednesday, June 20th at Minden United Church Hall. After the singing of the Grace, members and guests enjoyed the buffet. When the meeting came to order and Pres. Rheta Brown welcomed everyone with a brief poem. Reports were given and during the roll call those who had Secret Pals told us and 32 members and 2 guests were present with several ladies joining at this time, Edna Trumbull, Marcella Wright, Verna McDonald, Yvonne Beaucage, and Carol Emmerson. The card convenor, Irene Moore reported sending 22 cards since last meeting. A letter was read from Public School Principal Stuart Baker and his suggestions are to be followed. Mrs. Sears thanked the members who had judged the students' entries for the fall fair.

Programs for the year had been prepared with all members receiving one. Collections were taken for cards and Pennies for Friendship. New Secret Pal names were given out to those wishing them for the coming year with Mrs. Alice Todd explaining the details.

Mrs. Lyman Cox gave her report of the District Annual at Fenelon Falls last month and gave Mrs. Hulbig the list of Officers.

Mrs. A. S. Kernohan then made a presentation of a gift to Mrs. Cox in appreciation of her three years as president.

Mary then responded with her thanks to us, stating that she had enjoyed her office.

Mrs. Sears then presented Mrs. S. Ewing with parting gifts as Thelma had been helpful with her talents and time while she was a member. Thelma then told us she enjoyed her years in the area and being an active member and would look up a Branch near St. Catharines. Mrs. Sears also read a verse called "Seeds of Goodness" with honour to these two ladies.

The Bus Trip for the fall was discussed and committee in charge is Rheta Brown, Mary Cox and Irene Moore; let them know where you would like to go so they may decide. The next meeting will be September 19th at 2 p.m. at Orange Lodge Hall and all ladies welcome. The meeting closed with God Save the Queen and many said their personal farewell to Thelma.

Graduates can do something about the future... Mosgrove

Ninety-nine grade 12 students and 16 grade 13 students graduated from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, at commencement exercises last Saturday evening in Haliburton.

Beverley Jones and Marina Pearsell were named Ontario Scholars for achieving an average of 80 percent or more in grade 13. Twenty-one grade 12 students and six grade 13 students graduated with honors.

Brian Mosgrove, principal, told the graduates that "with knowledge of the past you can do something about the future".

He told them they could fight the problems of the future by standing on the beliefs shown to them in the church, home and school.

In more ways than one, continued the principal, all generations are the same, just the problems they face are different.

He wished the students every success in the future and also read a congratulatory letter sent to the students by Bill Scott, MP for Victoria-Haliburton.

Barbara Barnhart, grade 12 valedictorian, received a standing ovation from her fellow classmates when she told them "the learning doesn't stop here with this piece of paper, it goes on".

She highlighted sports activities that had taken place, during the past four years and the rewarding experience of having exchange students from other countries attend HHSS.

Andrew Salvatori, grade 13 valedictorian, said all the students must feel a tinge of sadness as they leave the security of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. He also received a standing ovation from his classmates.

Improve soil condition home-made compost

The cheapest and best way to make rich productive soil is with your own compost, according to gardening specialists in the lawn and garden section of Canadian Industries limited.

Compost, the experts point out, is a form of humus, and humus should be worked into all flower and vegetable beds every fall. Not only does this decayed organic matter add food to the soil, it helps the soil retain water and air and helps to break up heavy clay soils.

To make compost a container is required which can be either one available commercially or a do-it-yourself project. Size will depend on the amount of vegetable refuse you have, but generally a container four feet by four feet and four feet deep is sufficient. It can be made from cinder blocks or scrap wood.

Put in any vegetable refuse you have such as tree leaves, tea leaves, hedge clippings, grass cuttings, potato peels, etc. Tramp it down until you have a compacted layer six inches deep. Soak it thoroughly with the garden hose and cover with a one inch layer of garden soil which has been mixed with two cups of CIL Grow All. Sprinkle four cups of CIL Dolomitic Limestone over the soil.

Continue building with six inches layers of vegetable refuse as it becomes available, covering each layer with soil and limestone.

Keep the compost pile covered with a sheet of heavy, black plastic.

Each month, fork the contents top-to-bottom, and water well. Within four to five months your compost will turn into rich, brown, crumbly earth.

Spread a two inch layer on flower and vegetable beds in the fall, and mix it into the soil to a depth of six inches. Any compost you have left over from the fall treatment should be worked into the beds in the spring.

LINDSAY AGRICULTURAL OFFICE FARM NEWS and VIEWS

Using 2,4-D

During the past couple of weeks there have been a number of news reports on local radio stations about the dangers of using 2,4-D to control weeds.

Since 2,4-D is probably the commonest herbicide being used in the area, a number of people are concerned about and confused by these reports.

2,4-D is a chemical which is very effective in controlling a number of different broad-leaved weeds. It is used on grain crops, corn, lawns, roadsides and other non-crop areas where broad-leaved weeds are a problem.

Like any chemical, 2,4-D should not be used unless there is a need for it, and the people using it should treat it with respect, and according to the directions on the label.

The following are the two problems that can occur when spraying 2,4-D:

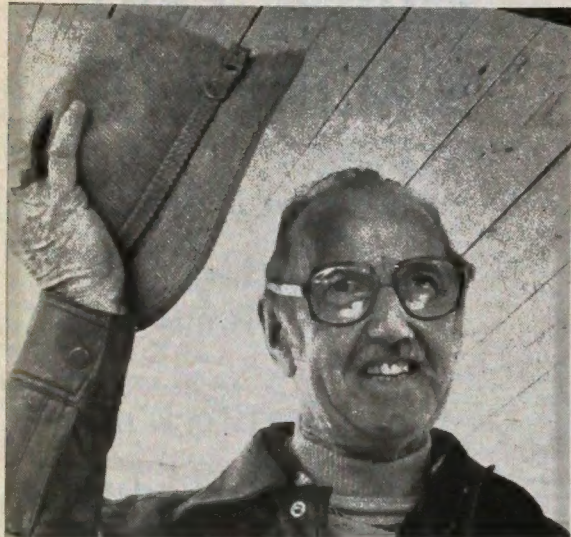

A. Many garden crops such as tomatoes are very susceptible to 2,4-D, so that someone spraying their lawn on a windy day could affect gardens which are near-by and down-wind.

B. There are many weeds which are toxic to livestock, but which livestock seldom eat. However, while some weeds are dying as a result of being sprayed, they become appealing to animals. The animals are then affected by the toxicity of these weeds, but not from the spray itself. Thus, livestock should be kept off an area sprayed with 2,4-D for at least one week.

There is no evidence that contact with 2,4-D which is applied according to manufacturer's recommendations presents any danger to humans, animals or wildlife.

SENIOR LEAGUE

by Linda English

Last week was Senior Citizen's week again and here at Hyland Crest we certainly had a busy time. On Saturday, June 16, Vivian Taylor with her Ballet class put on a very good program in the auditorium. They first showed us the fundamentals of ballet and then ended the program with a skit. The residents enjoyed very much the performance by the children and marvelled at their talents and perseverance. Saturday was a very special day for Mrs. Ethel Boice who celebrated her birthday. She was presented with a birthday cake at lunch time and spent the rest of the day with her family.

Monday morning we had our regular fun & fitness program and in the afternoon our ladies went to work on their crafts.

Tuesday began with a spiritual note, when Rev. Douglas Miller of Minden United Church led us in an inspiring service.

At 5:30 we held our annual over 70's dinner. Mark Schell and his staff served a delicious roast beef dinner with all the trimmings. Mrs. Bursey and a well-organized group of volunteer workers waited on tables and served the beverages. Our thanks to all those who helped make the dinner an event to remember.

After dinner, we were entertained by Bill Payne and the Kinsmen Ding-a-lings. The group was made up by Bill Payne, Warren Payne, Eldon Deacon and an Italian waiter, who is the administrator of Hyland Crest. They put on a very amusing show and everyone thoroughly enjoyed their antics. One residents said, and I quote "We certainly laughed our supper down."

We were pleased to have some of our committee members and the Warden of Haliburton County attend our dinner. There were about 160 guests from all over Haliburton County. Among them were two couples married 57 years and two couples married 59 years and their attendants. They were congratulated by Miss Doris Robertson, Activities Supervisor.

All in all the over 70's dinner was a very successful event, and a very enjoyable time was had by all who took part.

Wednesday morning, we had fun and fitness in the auditorium. We had a real good turn out and as a result had an especially good game of "Kick the Ball". Wednesday afternoon, while the ladies worked on their knitting, the gentlemen enjoyed a game of Carpet Bowling. After their activities the men joined the ladies for tea and goodies in the Craft Room.

Thursday afternoon the Hyland Crest Auxiliary served tea biscuits with cheese and ice cream cones for dessert at our tea party.

These ambitious ladies do so many good things for us at Hyland Crest, too numerous to mention. We deeply appreciate all their help.

Friday, several residents went to the lookout in Dorset for a picnic. We met with the senior citizens from the Pines Home for the Aged in Bracebridge. Everyone shared and enjoyed the delicious assortment of sandwiches, cookies, cakes and tarts. Fortunately, the rain held off until we had finished our lunch. We loaded the bus and headed for home when the rain stopped. Because it was early in the afternoon we decided to go for a tour. We went through the scenic town of Dorset out to Baysville, then turned and went to Huntsville. We stopped at the Tasty Cream for an ice cream cone before continuing our journey home. It turned out to be a nice day after all and everyone enjoyed their outing very much. This is an annual picnic which is held during Senior Citizen's week, and everyone looks forward to meeting with the Pines residents, and enjoying a day away from home.

It has been a very busy week at Hyland Crest, but a very enjoyable one and already we're looking forward to next year's Senior Citizen's Week.
